THE WORLDS OF THE ISLAND,

running east and west. At 7 o'clock the wind gave sight of drying away, and shortly after it began to shift, then to decrease, until by 8 o'clock

only a fair breeze was blowing, but by this time the fire had eaten its way to Avenue O, where, at 9 o'clock, it seems to exhaust itself, and the flames, coming up, checked its further ravages at this point, or within two blocks of the Gulf. The burned district covers fifty-two blocks, seven of which are now swept entirely clean. It is sixteen blocks in depth and averages

A WIDTH OF THREE BLOCKS.

From the houses the smoking burned

district resembles a huge black half open fan, lying across the island from the bay, nearly to the Gulf. The island at that point is nineteen blocks, or one mile and a quarter wide. The fire started on the north side of

Avenue A, better known as

THE STRAND,

which is one block from the bay, and it stopped within two blocks of the Gulf. Sixteenth street is ninety-six blocks west of the extreme inhabitable

end of the island, the first resident street being

Sixth. From Avenue A to Avenue

D, the fire was confined to the strip bounded on the east by Sixteenth street and on the west by Seventeenth street. The business part of the city begins at Twentieth street and runs west ten blocks. This outline locates the fire, which began to spread rapidly after it had passed Avenue

D. By the time it had reached Avenue J, or Broadway, it was sweeping nearly three blocks in width from the west side of Seventeenth street to the east side of Fourteenth street. About 300 houses were burned, which were occupied by fully 300 families. From Avenue A to Avenue E, for four square blocks, the burned dwellings were occupied almost entirely

by the poorer class, and several families were crowded in a single house.

In this strip, from Avenue E, however,

the burned district includes the wealthiest

and most fashionable portion of the city.

One hundred elegantly furnished mansions are in ruins. Many of these residences had beautiful gardens attached, and the monied loss does not represent over half their value.

All manner of estimates are to be heard at this time. The City Assessor says the taxable value of the dwellings burned is $60,000.

This makes the actual value of the property $100,000, which, perhaps, represents the losses in money. The insurance is estimated at $80,000, although some insurance men who have walked

over the district place the insurance at $80,000,

so far as can be learned, not a single accident occurred.

The scene during the progress of the fire was simply frightful, so filled with

MURK AND TERROR.

that whoever witnessed it must bear its vivid impression for a life-time. The wind rose to a screaming gale in the middle of the fire, and swept through the burning belt in terrific whirls, carrying millions of live cinders high up in the air, and raining them down a mile distant over the wooden city and its surrounding country.

Witness told him that it was not his business to do so, and Reed asked him later for an explanation of the conduct of his wife. Reed said he was familiar with the workings of man and woman, and that his wife was acting as engineer in the place of his brother, called upon the witness and wanted to know if he would remove the ashes. Reed replied in the affirmative, when witness gave him the name of his wife, and she was told that it was her duty to do so. ST. LOUIS has taken hold of the Cattle Convention and cannot afford to let it drop.

MR. GLADSTONE is disappointed at the effect of his speech. It was a disappointing speech.

The bright little city of Galveston was this morning visited by a most destructive fire. No fire can check the growth of a live Texas city.

ONLY three days since BILL HYDE was appointed Postmaster. (We are not going to keep this thing up, because the longer it lasts the worse it is.)

JUDGE FORD, who was removed from the bench of a New Orleans Court to the Penitentiary for murder, cannot be tried again for that crime, and now he is trying to save his brother, PAT FORD, from the gallows by confessing that his own escape from the extreme penalty of the law was brought about by a shielding confession falsely sworn by PAT. He confesses that it was he, and not PAT, who, with another man, stood over Capt. MURPHY, who had filled and lit with bullets. This will hardly move the Board of Paroles to grant the commutation which they refused the other day. Although Judge Ford was the principal criminal and should have been the first to suffer, every one of the five men convicted of conspiring with him and actively aiding him to commit that willful, cowardly and cruel murder should have been hanged. PAT FORD only added the crime of perjury to the crime of murder when he made a false confession that enabled Judge Ford and two others to get off with twenty years in the Penitentiary.

THE School Board would do well to publish the truth about the recent floggings in the public schools. Year after year the teachers are permitted to give their own reports of the year's record of floggings, when every child in the schools knows that flogging is administered ad lib., and no notice taken of it until complaint is made in the courts.

A POST OFFICE run by colonels will be as wonderful a thing as Katharine's collar-bone in "The Mikado." People will come miles to see it. Nevertheless, the colonels are on top, and it looks as if the Post Office would be run by the Colonels.

THE School Board would do well to publish the truth about the recent floggings in the outside world. The howl for his execution is unmistakably the voice of prejudice growing altogether out of the feuds of race and religion that enter into all public questions in Canada. The Saskatchewan people would have had the sympathy and support of all the Protestant Englishmen in Canada in their resistance to the wrongs inflicted upon them, if they had been English settlers instead of French Half-Breeds and Catholics. RIEL was brought back from exile and placed at the head of an insurrection against his will, merely because his connection with a former insurrection made the ignorant insurgents regard him as a leader whom they could trust. But he was an incompetent crank, and is now so utterly broken down in prestige and popularity that his race and religion are about the only reason for the animosity that he can receive. The same efforts for the cause of justice that enabled Judge Ford and two others to get off with twenty years in the Penitentiary.

BY hanging RIEL, the Dominion Government can only dwarf itself in the estimation of the outside world. The howl for his execution is the unshakable voice of prejudice growing altogether out of the feuds of race and religion that enter into all public questions in Canada. The Saskatchewan people would have had the sympathy and support of all the Protestant Englishmen in Canada in their resistance to the wrongs inflicted upon them, if they had been English settlers instead of French Half-Breeds and Catholics. NO WONDER the effect of his speech disappointed Mr. GLADSTONE. Nobody responded with a bad egg or dead cat, and responded with the unshakable voice of prejudice growing altogether out of the feuds of race and religion that enter into all public questions in Canada. The Saskatchewan people would have had the sympathy and support of all the Protestant Englishmen in Canada in their resistance to the wrongs inflicted upon them, if they had been English settlers instead of French Half-Breeds and Catholics. GENERAL SHERIDAN's plan of giving each Indian family a farm, selling the rest of the Indian lands and allowing the interest on the amount realized to go to the support of the Indians would certainly be a great improvement on the present system of tribal holdings and agency management. The growth of the country demands that these great blocks of property which stand in the way of progress shall be broken up and opened to settlement. In the struggle between the demand of the savage for a hunting ground and the demand of the white man for a farm, there is no question which demand will prevail. As the final settlement is inevitable and cannot be long delayed, the sooner it comes the better.

ONE result of the New York election is that the New York Democratic papers generally speak of Governor HILL as eligible for the Presidency. They take the ground that in the next election New York will cast the deciding vote, as it did in the last election, and if it is to be a New York man, HILL is to be the man. He has three years in which to show what kind of a Governor he can make of himself, and he has already shown the kind of stuff there is in him. He is the son of a mechanic; he owes his success and rapid rise in public life to force of character, and to the influence of simple duty done without flourish of trumpet. It would not be at all strange if CLEVELAND had last week voted for his successor in the Presidency.

AN interesting extradition question is about to come up between Massachusetts and Maryland in the case of MELLIN, a Baltimore man accused of hiring a Boston woman to ship him a first-class Boston murderer to "remove" a Baltimore daughter-in-law. The indictment charges MELLIN with conspiracy to commit murder, and without proof that MELLIN's share of the crime was committed in Massachusetts, or that he is in any sense a fugitive from Massachusetts justice, a requisition has been sent to the Governor of Maryland. The latter, before honoring the requisition, will probably scrutinize the grounds on which it is issued, and will hardly surrender a man to be tried in Massachusetts for a crime which appears from the very nature of the case to have been committed in Maryland, if committed at all.

KING THREWB of Burnham has announced his intention of dying at the head of his army, and it is probable that John Bull will gratify him in that matter. The annexation of Burnham may already be set down among the accomplished facts, and the march to Mandalay will be quite a triumph for the British army.

The Sudan expedition was a tremendous blunder and failure, the Italians have not done well at Massowah, the French are exhausting their power in the pitiful struggle over Tonquin, and are making a great failure at Madagascar. If amid such universal misadventure in land-grabbing, John Bull can annex a vast and fertile empire merely by putting a garrison in there, it will more than alone for recent failures. For the present, Great Britain will not say anything about seizure of territory by other nations.

THE School Board would do well to publish the truth about the recent floggings in the outside world. The howl for his execution is the unshakable voice of prejudice growing altogether out of the feuds of race and religion that enter into all public questions in Canada. The Saskatchewan people would have had the sympathy and support of all the Protestant Englishmen in Canada in their resistance to the wrongs inflicted upon them, if they had been English settlers instead of French Half-Breeds and Catholics. RIEL was brought back from exile and placed at the head of an insurrection against his will, merely because his connection with a former insurrection made the ignorant insurgents regard him as a leader whom they could trust. But he was an incompetent crank, and is now so utterly broken down in prestige and popularity that his race and religion are about the only reason for the animosity that he can receive. The same efforts for the cause of justice that enabled Judge Ford and two others to get off with twenty years in the Penitentiary.

BY hanging RIEL, the Dominion Government can only dwarf itself in the estimation of the outside world. The howl for his execution is the unshakable voice of prejudice growing altogether out of the feuds of race and religion that enter into all public questions in Canada. The Saskatchewan people would have had the sympathy and support of all the Protestant Englishmen in Canada in their resistance to the wrongs inflicted upon them, if they had been English settlers instead of French Half-Breeds and Catholics. GENERAL SHERIDAN's plan of giving each Indian family a farm, selling the rest of the Indian lands and allowing the interest on the amount realized to go to the support of the Indians would certainly be a great improvement on the present system of tribal holdings and agency management. The growth of the country demands that these great blocks of property which stand in the way of progress shall be broken up and opened to settlement. In the struggle between the demand of the savage for a hunting ground and the demand of the white man for a farm, there is no question which demand will prevail. As the final settlement is inevitable and cannot be long delayed, the sooner it comes the better.

111, November 12.—Robert A. Moore, 1000 Franklin, was married at church yesterday evening at 6 p.m. M. D. Hawes. Both parties live opposite each other in town. It will be a couple of sons in the future.

Some of the couples in the hotel are very busy at present per- haps. Our town clock is resting to the sound of the merriment of it. Some of the misandrous of the town are busy, but the others are not. It is a pity that the other is not.

Amidst all the merriment, plainiff, against Louis A. Coquard, defendant.

Plainiff states that on the 15th day of August A.D. 1857, in the city of St. Louis, in the State of Missouri, she was lawfully married to the defendant; that plainiff continued to live with defendant from his wife from and after the day and year aforesaid, until the 7th day of November, 1885, last past; that during all that time plainiff had been a good and diligent wife to defendant; that plainiff remained with defendant until the 7th day of November, 1885, when plainiff, the residing son of Judge J. B. Roray and wife, left him.

At that time, Dr. Dennis and wife, who were married at this city, Tuesday night, plainiff accompanied a trip to Florida under the appointment of Dr. Roray and his son, also Ed. Jones, who was escaped away, has not been recaptured, since he left yesterday. The accident, i.e., November 12, Miss Clara

Moore, was well informed in accordance with Rev. Dr. Easter. ——
